A union suit which fits without bunching at the waist, or pulling open between the buttons, is a comfort to the wearer.

Porosknit Union Suits are that and more—they are elastic, yield to every movement, fit everywhere and bind nowhere. The open texture lets your body breathe and evaporates the hot perspiration. Porosknit two piece suits do the same. Either gives cool comfort.

CLUB OFFICIALS ARE SATISFACTORY

A. A. Approves Selections for Times-Dispatch Endurance
Run.

Referee H. W. Bassett, of the North Carolina endurance run, has ruled that entries for the run shall not be closed until Wednesday, June 1, at midnight, the rules of the American Automobile Association being that only five days shall elapse between the closing of entries and the day of the run.

Official notice was received yesterday from the American Automobile Association to the effect that the officials appointed by the Richmond Automobile Club for the North Carolina run were satisfactory to the contest committee. The officials are:

Dr. H. W. Bassett, referee.
Otis M. Alfriend, American Automobile Association representative.
Robert B. Alipor, chief observer.
W. B. Nelson, timer and checker.
Jonathan Bryan, pacemaker.

The entries are coming in fast for the run, which promises to be even more popular than the Virginia endurance run. The route laid out has met with the approval of motor car owners, and this is especially evidenced by the fact that a large number of women will go as passengers in the cars.

The first night away from home will be spent at Littleton, at the Panacea Springs Hotel, a well-known summer resort. The second night will be spent at Raleigh, and the third night at Clarksville, where Mayor Easley has personally given his attention to secure proper accommodations for the travelers.

The run takes place Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 7, 8, 9 and 10. The officials urge motor car owners, in making their entries, to name observers, so that there will be no occasion for the officials to perform that duty.

Entries close at midnight on Wednesday, June 1.

Washington, Baltimore and Norfolk Contestants.

Five pairs of whist players, representing the Richmond Whist Club, will leave for Norfolk on Saturday for the whist tournament to be played between teams from Washington, Baltimore, Norfolk and Richmond in that city. The event will be one of the largest of its kind ever held and the Richmond players have great hopes of carrying away the silver cups offered the winning team.

The Richmond Whist Club team has for years played in regular tournaments with the Norfolk Whist Club, but this is the first time that it has been entered in an intercity match with contestants from Washington and Baltimore.

The teams will play the first rubber Saturday afternoon, and play will continue, with an intermission for dinner, late into Saturday night. Play will be resumed on Monday, and, according to the rules for tournaments laid down by Hoyle, continue until the winning team has demonstrated its superiority.

Some Baseball Talk

By HALF NELSON.

Bussey got his revenge yesterday afternoon. Got it in the place where it would do the most good, and the betting is two to one that he enjoyed the engagement. When he last appeared against the Colts, Bussey was the bright particular easy mark. The Colts found him waiting at the end of the bat, and the way they hammered him is a matter of history. Yesterday he cleaned up those same Colts, with Verbut in the box, and there is joy in Danville.

Chief Justice Shaughnessy and his band will come to Richmond for the first time this season this afternoon, and the Colts have got to get up and "git" to down them. Shaughnessy has got a right and proper bunch this season, and the current report is that they can hit the ball. With the left garden vacant and the Colts experiencing a batting slump, that should have hit the bottom before now, the Highlanders this afternoon, although Salve is a possibility, Revelle and Verbut have both taken their medicine, and Hale and Salve have got to deliver the goods. Irvine will play left field and Messitt will handle the big mitt and work that head of his for results.

It is expected that O'Donnell, the outfielder signed by the Colts, will show up to-day but so far very little has been heard from him. Before he left Richmond, Jack Lawlor had all arrangements made for O'Donnell to take up his work with the Colts before they left Danville. O'Donnell has not appeared so far, however, and the Colts have suffered. Nothing has been heard from Malcolmson yet, and he wouldn't have a job if he showed up now. That is, if O'Donnell appears.

Incidentally Peewee King has been doing great work with Winston-Salem so far. His batting record against the Carolina pitchers has been of the A 1 order, and Winston-Salem thinks he is the one best bet.

The impression has been made on the average fan of Richmond that the management is paying out too much money for pitchers and not enough for batters. The batting of the Colts helps out the idea. Since the training season began Richmond has had pitchers galore, but the outfielders, who should at least bat, have had very little attention paid them, and Richmond is nearer the bottom of the percentage column than the top.

Among the good ones that the Colts have tried out and thrown into the discard are Peterson, now with St. Louis; Brooks, now with Lynchburg; Ferrell, who was turned loose without a real trial, and several others. Now, let the management get to work on the batting staff and if those who have the jobs can't hit get somebody to take their places who can hit. Sacrificing hits and bases on balls will not win many games, and that seems to be about all that the Colts can do at present.

The long-distance bettors are getting their good work in just about now.

Irvine and Shaw dashed into the limelight yesterday afternoon in spite of all that has been said about the lack of hitting by touting Bussey up for a homer and a double. When Irvine's homer came, however, there was nobody on the bags, and his was the only run that scored during the whole game. Shaw's double went unrewarded. Shaw hits harder when away from home than he does in the Broad Street Park.

Twelve thousand people have voted Pearl Young the season's classiest comedy singer. At the Bijou.
